

Federation of Churches Met October 31

Main Line Group Hears Report on Haverford ABC Shop

Miss Alice H. Ambler, executive secretary of the Main Line Federation of Churches, spoke at a meeting of the Federation at the Ashbridge House in Rosemont on October 31.

Miss Ambler introduced a new member of the staff, Miss Geraldine Spencer, and spoke in appreciation of the work of the volunteers.

Mrs. Robert Page, Jr., head of the A. E. C. Shop in Haverford, reported that through the contributions earned by the Shop, the mortgage on the property of the Federation has been paid off. She told the group of the work done by Mrs. Herbert Painter's committee in collecting material for the shop from the churches.

Mrs. James Eavan urged all volunteers, many of whom are solicitors to redouble their efforts for the United War Chest. She told the group that the Federation is probably the oldest agency which has a recipient of the fund and is the youngest member.

Miss Elizabeth Pharo has been appointed as chairman of the Christmas committee this year. This committee acts as a clearing house for the various agencies, preventing duplication of effort. A plea was made for efforts which are to be reconducted by Mrs. A. O. Becher and her aides at the Y. M. C. A. in Ardmore.

Mrs. S. E. C. Downs, of Ardmore, reminded members of the special fund held by the volunteers in memory of Mrs. William Ladd, Mrs. H. Wilson Moorhouse and Dr. Calvert Carter and asked any members to contribute to the fund if they wished to do so.

Mrs. Warren Graham of Villanova, gave a report on the successful Little Garden Day sale held last May.

Following the meeting tea was served by Miss Vaux and Mrs. Henry Longmaid of the hospitality committee.

TURN OFF THE BARREL
The bugle call of "taps" has nothing to do with the art of covering the body with figures. It is a contraction of "taps-to" a bugle call sounded as far back as the Thirty Years' War, 1618-1648, as a signal to notify the camp to turn off beer taps for the evening.

R.S.V.P.—After all a girl has to accept an invitation to somebody else's party sometimes. For one of these, Georgia C. Roll, of Kay Kyser's NBC "College of Musical Knowledge," has included in her winter wardrobe this honey-beige crepe dress with side drape and peplum, designed by Edna Vilm. The dress almost matches her hair. The hat's rose faillie grosgrain and satin.

Hear Plays Reviewed

With the new president, Mrs. Carl L. Miller, presiding, the Junior Woman's Club of Bala-Cynwyd met last Monday evening and heard Mrs. Russell Melchor, of Harrisburg.

A fascinating speaker, Mrs. Melchor reviewed very fully the plays, "Havoc," "I Remember Mama," "Therese," and "Glass Menagerie." Following her talk, members asked opinions on plays and she generously commented on them.

The hostesses were Mrs. Edward Kelly, Mrs. Henry Asam, Jr., Mrs. J. R. Eagle, and Mrs. Richard B. Ayer. Mrs. James Henwood is the newly appointed vice president. The club will hold its first post-war Fall formal dance on Friday evening, November 23, at the club-house.

Narberth Community Club Held Annual Flower Show Nov. 6

Amateurs in the field of flower arranging should express their own personality in the choice and arrangement of flowers, said Mrs. E. F. Phelps, speaker at the amateur flower show sponsored by the Conservation and Garden Committee of the Narberth Women's Community Club. The show was held at the Club House Tuesday afternoon.

Every arrangement should have a point of interest, she said, and should follow the line established with the first placed article. One thing to develop is the ability to see and use whatever you have around you. You don't need a great deal of money to make beautiful arrangements.

Mrs. Phelps pointed out the innumerable possibilities for the painting of twigs, leaves, cones and branches for particular decorations at Christmas time, Thanksgiving or other holidays.

During her talk, Mrs. Phelps demonstrated by making nine flower arrangements. She used mostly dried materials—dried roots, painted leaves, dried twigs and odd branch formations. She used yellow chrysanthemums in two arrangements and had one white arrangement in a pink container. The other arrangements were in brown tones.

The flower arrangement entries were judged at noon by John Albrecht, Jr., Mrs. William H. Boardman, and Mrs. P. M. Ogden from the Bala-Cynwyd Women's Club.

The winners are as follows:
Best miniatures: 1st prize, Mrs. W. D. Burnside; 2nd prize, Mrs. Benjamin Taylor; 3rd prize, Mrs. F. C. Stiefel. Honorable mention, Mrs. George Supplee.

Most Unique Arrangement: 1st prize, Mrs. William Lakeman; 2nd prize, Mrs. Edwin Kirk; 3rd prize, Mrs. Sheldon Myers; honorable mentions, Mrs. A. C. Mueller and Mrs. Curtis M. Green.

Most Unusual Container: 1st prize, Mrs. E. C. Vernon; 2nd prize, Mrs. John M. Donington; 3rd prize, Mrs. George Supplee; honorable mention, Mrs. E. C. Vernon.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Samuel J. McCartney, president.

The music program included Mrs. Helen Van Solter, soprano. After Mrs. John Henry Balzar, chairman of the Conservation and Garden Committee, had announced the winners of the show, tea was served. The hostesses were Mrs. Charles Haist and Mrs. George Gilpin.

Mrs. William Durbin, chairman of the membership committee, introduced three new members, Mrs. W. D. Benedict, Mrs. Raymond Plude and Mrs. Harry Read. She also announced that following the November 20th meeting, a special tea would be served in honor of the new members.

Mrs. Karl Williams, chairman of the Fellowship Committee, announced that a large card party would be held at the club rooms on November 28 and that all members and their friends were invited.

Mrs. J. H. Speck, chairman of the Camp and Hospital Committee, announced plans for a benefit card party to be held at the home of Mrs. George Gill, 216 Dudley Ave., Narberth, on November 14. The hostesses are to be Mrs. Gill, Mrs. F. C. Stiefel, Mrs. L. J. Cowie and Mrs. A. N. Miller.

Art Pupils Decorate Windows To Aid United War Chest Drive

Lower Merion High School Art Classes, aided by Norman C. A. Snyder, display manager of Strawbridge and Clothier's Ardmore store, turned out enthusiastically last week and decorated three United War Chest windows at Hartley's Shoe Shop and Lyons' Hardware store, both on Lancaster Ave. in Ardmore, and in Strawbridge and Clothier's men's store, North Ardmore.

"Almost professional" skill was the result of their effort, according to Snyder, who visited the classes and gave the students their first taste of practical window display work by addressing them on the subject and later by taking half a dozen of them on a tour of the display room and construction facilities at the Strawbridge and Clothier store. After the students had submitted scale sketches of their ideas for window themes, those of Virginia Armstrong, Paul Moses, and Eleanor Wolfe were chosen to be put into execution. This was done by a student committee consisting of students Bill Homer, Paul Moses, Joyce Riesner, Barbara Earnest, and Eleanor Wolfe, aided by William C. Bahrmann, Senior High School art instructor, Mr. Snyder, and using the workshop and materials of Strawbridge and Clothier. Students James Reardon and Bill Watts installed the displays in Hartley's and Lyons' windows, while the work on the window in the Men's Store of Strawbridge's was that of Paul Moses from start to finish.

The three-way co-operation of store, school, and students in dramatizing the great work the United War Chest does for the whole community is something new to Lower Merion Township this year, and, according to all concerned, the results were splendid. The students responded enthusiastically and ably, showing skill in their work and real creative ability, as well as real community pride in helping the United War Chest Campaign to make the life of our community constantly finer and fuller. In return, the students received practical training in another field of creative art and an awareness that their school had made a real contribution to the life of the community. George H. Gilbert, principal of the Senior High School, praised the project as a valuable experience for the students.

Spurce gum, resinous pitch exuding from the balsam fir, was much used as chewing gum before the days of the commercial product.

Hear Both Sides Of Labor-Owner Story, Says Lloyd

"I hope all thoughtful citizens in our community will take advantage of this opportunity to hear both sides of the story and to ask their own questions of these representative men," said William J. Lloyd, president of the Ardmore Chamber of Commerce, in urging attendance at the panel discussion on labor-management relations which the League of Women Voters is sponsoring.

This community forum will be held November 14 8.15 P. M., in Roberts Hall at Haverford College. The three local leaders, Haverford, Lower Merion and Radnor—are sponsoring it.

Alexander H. Frey, professor of law at the University of Pennsylvania, will be moderator. The three speakers are: Sylvester Garrett, chairman, Third Regional War Labor Board; Stephen Levitsky, assistant to research directors, United Steel Workers of America; and R. H. Sobey, assistant general manager of J. C. Brill Company.

"We fought the war to get a chance to solve just such problems," said Mrs. Lynmar Brock, chairman of the program committee of the Haverford League. "And the League believes the public wants the facts from both sides. We invite genuine, honest questions, but not an airing of prejudices. This will enable us to do some of our thinking at the local level too," Mrs. Brock added.

Need Volunteers to Collect Clothing For Russian Relief

Russian Relief needs more volunteers for a round-up collection of used clothing which will be conducted during the weekend with every section of the city.

The call was issued today by Sol Duchovny, chairman of Russian Relief's clothing committee. Duchovny said that volunteers will be asked to go from door-to-door in their own neighborhood on Sunday.

Duchovny pointed out that Russian Relief clothing is usually on a Soviet-bound ship within three weeks after leaving Philadelphia homes. Clothing collected in this Philadelphia drive, he said, would be received by Russian men, women and children in time for the bitter winter.

Little Things about THE STARS

By GEORGE LILLEY

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Radio's most exclusive guest is violinist Fritz Kreisler. After a 20-year hold-out, the virtuoso, 70, succumbed to offers of NBC's Monday night "Telephone Hour" last year, this season is scheduled for three appearances on the program. Kreisler, who plays for the first time on the air, is noted for his own "Miniature Viennese March." Kreisler is noted for his dislike of practice: "I've always been driven, first by my father, now by my wife with 'You're lazy. You'll never amount to anything.'" The artist, who speaks eight languages, suffered amnesia after a street accident in '41 during which he spoke only Latin and Greek. His wife knew he was recovering when he began talking in English, German, French and everything.

TOUGH "DADDY"

Hanley Stafford: Baby Snook's "Daddy" Sunday evenings, CBS. He might have picked his full name from his birthplace: Hanley, Staffordshire, England. "Daddy" in the mid-20's used to be a "heavy" in western and horror films. At that time he made a vow with Edward Everett Horton that they would never marry. Edward Everett, 58, never has. Stafford married Viola Vonn, an actress, lives in a Hollywood hill-top home ("radio domesticated me"). In '36, while playing on 20 radio shows a week, Stafford added a "one-shot" guest appearance with Fanny Brice. He's been Snook's "Daddy" since.

TED'S TASTE

Ted Collins: Most successful manager in radio. Ted was born Joseph Martin Collins. His father, who once was physician to President Theodore Roosevelt, nicknamed Ted in the President's honor. In 14 years of radio, Collins and Kate Smith (Friday nights, CBS) have grossed $46,000,000. Like his singer, stocky (5-8, curly haired) Collins, 46, can't read a note of music. He attributes that to the pair's success at introducing hit songs (five of the first 10 last season). "I have the average man's taste," Kathryn sings them as the composer felt them, not as they are written. Collins has no theatrical background, formerly was a phonograph record salesman.

VERY LITTLE THINGS

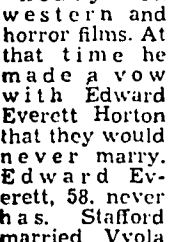

Cornelia Otis Skinner, who stars with Roland Young on the new "Johnny Presents" show (Tuesday nights, NBC), occasionally shakes so before the microphone that she can't read her script. Now she is using a special script stand... Patti Clayton, CBS's new songstress (Thursday evenings), was hired by Arthur Godfrey from a recording, sight unseen. The Detroit brunette turned out beautifully (see cut)... Dinah Shore (Thursday nights, NBC), born Frances Rose, still gets this jingle: "Fanny sat on a tack; Fanny Rose; Fanny Rose sat on a tack; Did Fanny Rose's horse? Longest name in radio: Mutual's Sunday night commentator, Michael Messolonghites.

Postpone Start of New Health Plan To Examine All Students

The State Department of Health has granted the Lower Merion School Board permission to postpone enforcement of the new State health act which requires medical and dental examinations of all elementary and high school pupils.

Until next year when the new system will be inaugurated, F. A. Dubois, superintendent of Lower Merion schools, said that the old health program would be continued.

Among the reasons for postponement is that the State requires each examination recorded on a special form and these forms have not been received in sufficient quantity. DuBois said that to date he had received only 200 forms.

Another reason given for the delay is that there is a scarcity of doctors to conduct the examinations for the price which the State has designated.

Another angle is that there is some doubt throughout the State as to the constitutionality of the new health act in providing the expenditure of public school funds for examination of students in private and parochial schools.

The solicitor for the Lansdowne School District rendered an opinion that the new health act was unconstitutional and illegal and has appealed to the Attorney General for a ruling. The State Department of Health, which has charge of administering the health program, has also questioned the legality of the act and referred it to the Attorney General. As yet, no decision has been handed down on the matter.

For the past 20 years schools in the township have had a very extensive health program and according to DuBois, the State Department of Health has commended Lower Merion on having the best health program in the State.

DuBois pointed out that the health program in township schools is more complete than the program which is outlined in the State Health Act.

For years Lower Merion has required medical examinations of all students in the township schools which were done by physicians employed by the school district. The health act only requires that students of alternate grades be examined plus all teachers and employees.

During the past four years there has been much expansion in the dental work. Today there are two dental hygienists who do dental work in the school districts and four clinics are held each week for students in the elementary and junior high schools.

Prior to the expansion program there was only one dental hygienist and only two clinics per week for pupils in the elementary schools.

The big difference in the two programs is that only students in the public schools were taken care of by the school district under the old program, whereas the State now includes children in private and parochial schools.

Wynnewood Tops War Chest Quota

Bala-Cynwyd, Bryn Mawr Business Groups Top Quotas

Wynnewood, having raised 100.5 per cent of its quota, is the first Lower Merion district to reach and pass its quota for the United War Chest.

The businessmen from Bala-Cynwyd and Bryn Mawr also went over the top of their quotas this week. The business district group of Bala-Cynwyd Heights has raised over twice their quota reaching 208.3 per cent while the businessmen from Bryn Mawr topped their quota with 107.8 per cent. William H. Carter headed the Bryn Mawr group and F. Emmett Hunt and the Lions Club spurred the Cynwyd group on to its goal.

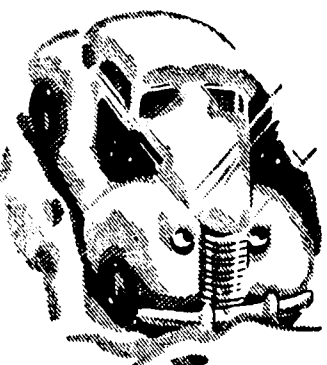

As the War Chest Campaign reached its scheduled close today, other Main Line divisions were still short of their quotas and campaign officials have extended the drive for a few more days to give solicitors time to cover their districts.

The Overbrook-Ardmore district still lacks 10 per cent of its quota. Bala-Cynwyd lacks 25.1 per cent and Bryn Mawr-Villanova lacks 29.3 per cent. Officials expressed a belief that these districts would go over their quotas within the next few days and urged all those who have not contributed to the campaign to do so as soon as possible.

The Autocar Company in Ardmore reported that the campaign was continuing among the Autocar employees and at the last count the employees had contributed $1,690.95. The $50,000 gift of the Autocar Company last week remains the largest contribution from Lower Merion Township.

Col. Robert S. Allen, former columnist of the Philadelphia Record, who lost an arm while fighting in Germany last April, told the report luncheon on Monday at the Bellevue-Stratford that it was inconceivable that Philadelphia and its suburbs would fail to subscribe the quota sought by the United War Chest for its many vital services.

Col. Allen saw at first hand the pathetic plight of Europe's displaced persons and emphasized that nothing should be left undone to return them to their former homes.

Warns of Punishment

"Drastic punishment for automobile thieves who endanger the safety of motorists and pedestrians by criminally reckless operation of the stolen cars," is urged by Keystone Automobile Club.

In a statement, Keystone said it has received numerous complaints from motorists about the frequency of thefts involving "reckless operation."

"It is the feeling of motorists," said F. C. B. Kent, Manager of the Main Line Division of the Club, "that their lives are unnecessarily endangered by car thieves and that the only way to abort this hazard is to impose such stiff penalties on those who are convicted that others will be deterred from following their example."

Lower Merion Underdog Again as Chester High Visits Pennypacker Field

Coach Mattis Not Crying Blues Although Two Intercepted Passes Beat Maroon After Norristown Is Outplayed

Lower Merion High's football team lost to Norristown, 21 to 13, last week . . . but, surprisingly, Coach Dick Mattis admitted this week he was "pleased with the team's performance."

"At least, I'm pleased with it as you could be of any team that lost a game," he hastened to qualify the statement. "We outplayed Norristown throughout the game, rolling up 14 first downs to their seven, and only lost one through a couple misdirected passes."

"Norristown intercepted three of our passes and converted two of them into touchdowns. But in all Parry Scott tossed 26 forwards and completed 13 for a 500 percentage. And that's par in any league."

Meanwhile, Mattis revealed that Lor Shephard, the sophomore fireball back from Bala-Cynwyd, probably will not play Saturday afternoon when Lower Merion meets Chester at Pennypacker Field.

Shephard has been handicapped by a charlie horse, induced by a bruised thigh, and saw little action against Norristown. Guard Ed DiPaolo returned to the line-up after being sidelined several weeks with a shoulder injury, but immediately sustained a knee ailment and may again be shelved. Chester's highly-regarded eleven is enjoying one of the best seasons in years. The Delaware cougars conquered Radnor, 18-0, and upset Upper Darby, 12-0. They lost only to Norristown, by 12-0. And if comparative scores may be believed, the Mattisms will again be cast as underdogs Saturday.

Mattis, employing the T formation for the first time this year, revealed the system takes time to develop. "At that, we've got a good offense," he pointed out. "We've probably scored as many points as any team in the Suburbs."

"But the other team always manages to score plenty on us," the Merionite mottos added.

Norristown turned two pass interceptions into victory after Lower Merion had fashioned a 13-0 lead in the third quarter. Dick Powell plunged over from the two, capping a 74-yard advance, for the second-period touchdown. At the start of the third period Parry Scott passed to Bart for 26 yards and the second six-point. Powell provided the extra point.

But Norristown, after scoring on three plays in the second period, pulled it out of the fire when Ed Steiner ran 58 yards in the third quarter and Charlie Hood fled 60 yards in the fourth. Hood passed to Bob Atkinson to rattle Eagles initial touchdown.

Narberth Ready For League Opener On Wayne Court

Borough Confident Of Fast Start in Race Monday

Manager George (Jiggs) Torchiana has put the finishing touches on his Narberth American Legion basketball team and is confident it will get off to a flying start in the Main Line League race next week.

The borough passers open against Wayne at Radnor High Monday night and then make their debut on the lower Main Line against Norristown at Bala-Cynwyd Junior High next Thursday.

Torchiana has just about decided on his lineup. It will consist of Bobby Stuehr, sharpshooting forward from last year's team, and Albie Bassett, member of the 1942 quintet, who has just returned from the service, at forwards; the huge 6-foot-4 Gene Glatthmann, a Marine Captain now living in Narberth, at center, and the veteran, durable Russ Herrmann and Bud Feehey, former Brown Prep star who saw some action with Brookline last year, at guards.

In reserve there will be Enns Ray, George Major, John Staudt, Eddie Town, Kelly, Walt Joachim, John Loziak, Andy Knox and Clarence Griffiths.

"I think we'll be better than last year," says Torchiana hopefully. "We won't have much of a size advantage, but we'll be fast, our defense will be stronger and we have so many good reserves I don't know how I'm going to keep 'em all happy."

Wayne will be a tough opening assignment as Steve Juenger, the pro league star and Haverford High coach, and the towering Cliff Calvert are with the Upper Main Liners again. Raders, Low and Al Roselli and Bobby English are out of the service, giving them a well rounded experienced quintet.

Upper Darby Harriers Take District 1 Title

Upper Darby High's harriers retained their PIAA District One cross-country crown Thursday, upsetting a favored Haverford High outfit in the race for honors.

While Royal runners were scoring 27 points to take the title for the third straight year, Upper Darby Captain Sam Brown broke the Cobbs Creek course record. Running with a sprained ankle, he was clocked in 22 minutes, 56 seconds, bettering the old record of 13:05 made by Lower Merion's Windy Emmlett in 1940.

Brown finished with a 15-yard lead over a teammate, Russ Neil, while Haverford's Stan Johnson was 20 yards behind. Johnson, Haverford captain, had twice previously fractured his own course record this season.

Haverford, Suburban champion, completed 59 seconds, placing five runners within the first 20 finishers. Norristown High had 81 points for third. Other scores: Chester, 142; Ambler, 174; West Chester, 180; Coatesville, 186; Lower Merion, 288; Springfield (Montco), 292; and Media, 300.

BASKETBALL LOWDOWN

Chester May Set Early Pace With Lukens, Narberth, Wayne Main Title Contenders

By L. M. FORD

Having successfully given a fairly true forecast of the tight Big Six title scramble with our pre-season "football lowdown," we're going to look over the Main Line Basketball League today and give the fans an idea of what to expect in this 13th campaign that starts Monday.

The basketball picture is much more uncertain because the return of certain key men from the service can change the situation overnight. But on information available at the moment there is every reason to believe the league will be stronger than it has ever been and that at least six of the eight teams will have a good chance for the title.

We look for Penn Steel of Chester to set the early pace because Bill Sauer's strong team is the same that finished in a tie for second place during the regular season last year. All the other teams have two and three strange men in their lineups and team play and fitness may not be what it should be in the early games.

Despite the reports of "holdouts" on the Coatesville front, Lukens Steel will be in the running for the title, as usual. In fact, there is every reason to believe Lukens will be just as big and will be faster and narker more punch. They're a cinch to be in the playoffs again.

Narberth lost Big Bill Law to the service, released Art Spector so that he could go to Clifton Heights, but has any number of good players just out of the service to fill the gaps. The borough probably won't have the same overwhelming scoring punch, but has two things it didn't have last year—a defense and good reserves—and that's why it should be a tougher ball club. Count on 'em being among the first three.

That leaves the fourth playoff spot a wide open scramble among Clifton Heights, Norristown, Wayne and Brookline, with returnees from the service likely to determine which will finish there. Only Upper Darby, still in the process of organization, appears out of the picture at the moment.

Here's a preview of the teams:

COATESVILLE—The champion Lukens Steel quintet may be without Don Markward, George Rubincan and Don Cameron at the outset, but shouldn't be too concerned as new manager Stan Garwaski has two new high scorers in Gene Patton and Bob Lammey, former Coatesville High stars, and can figure of former stars Bobby Keelin, Andy Clayers just out of the service to fill the gaps. The borough probably won't have the same overwhelming scoring punch, but has two things it didn't have last year—a defense and good reserves—and that's why it should be a tougher ball club. Count on 'em being among the first three.

CLIFTON HEIGHTS—Johnny Wise has a potentially powerful club built around Art Spector, the former Villanova College star who also is a member of the Baltimore team in the American Pro League. Jack Duke, Charles Quinn, Ed Brown and Walt Kaminski are former Clifton Heights High stars. Joe Campbell is a 6-foot-3 former Holy Cross athlete, and Moon Mullin and Joe Tunsell played at Brown Prep and West Catholic, respectively. Team has plenty of reserves at the start, but should come close to being unbeatable on its small, narrow home court.

BROOKLINE—The last time Brookline had a club finish last, it was in 1937. The following season, such miracles happen but once in a lifetime and Good concedes he'll be satisfied if his completely remodeled team places several notches above the cellar. This ought to be possible as he has two sets of fast forwards in veteran George Morris, rookie Pete Caniglia, Doug Shephard, just out of the Marines, and Lee Rothrock, former Haverford High captain, two 6-foot-4 centers in Stretch Killian and Bob Lloyd; an dail, capable guards in Chick Bramble, on Temple's varsity squad the past two seasons; Joe Loane, Ted McKean and Art Hillman, in addition, Charlie Gunther, last year's Haverford High star, may be available for some games and George Gaskill, high scoring star before the war, and Len Jones, who left the service within a month, which means more height and experience. A dark horse.

UPPER DARBY—Joe Blithe's still not definitely set on his squad, but expects to have Dick Sheldon and Bill Nelson, West Upper Darby and West Philly stars, at forward; Ken Woelfel, 6-foot-4 former Marine at center; Joe Jackson, former Upper Darby High ace, and Wes Grenfell, industrialist at guard. At the back, the opener, Charlie Guter, and Dan Mackin, former Upper Darby High stars, and Jack Ferrante, of the Eagles, are expected to join the team by the first of the year. Still an unknown quantity.

WAYNE—Manager Bill Walsh reports that he expects Steve Juenger to lead the team, which ought to mean Wayne will be in the thick of things inasmuch as Cliff Calvert is back at center and Lou and Al Roselli and Bobby English, all former members of the Raiders, have returned from the service. Strong reserves include Vince Colodona, star of last year's Radnor miracle team; Ed Farrell, El Aineid, and John Taggart, Hank Manz and Jack Cairns. Definitely a title threat.

NORRISTOWN—Any club that has two tall, high scoring forwards of the calibre of Mike Beland and Joe Guinger is potential dynamite. In addition the veteran

An honest mind is one that is clear as to what is possible of prejudice.

Villanova Closes With B. C. Eleven

Wildcats and Boston Play Sat. Night At Shibe Park

Still licking their wounds after encountering Army's power-packed team, Villanova's football Wildcats will return to their own league Saturday night, concluding their 1945 campaign by meeting Boston College in Shibe Park.

Against teams of its own class, Villanova has triumphed in every instance. Jordan Oliver's operatives defeated Detroit, Bucknell and Marquette. But every excursion into the big leagues ended disastrously, the Main Liners losing to Navy, Tennessee, Army and Holy Cross.

Boston College is returning to formal competition this season after a war-enforced layoff. Villanova is favored to triumph over the Eagles, thus ending its season with a 500 percentage.

Army, seemingly scoring almost as often as it pleased, registered a 56-0 triumph last Saturday at the Cadets' Michie Stadium, West Point.

Hopelessly outplayed by the nation's No. 1 team, Villanova's valiant defenders hung on tenaciously and were still in there scrapping at the final whistle.

The Wildcats collected only one point in the game—when Dave Generali broke around end for 13 yards in the second period—but displayed flashes of brilliance and indicated they'll have to be reckoned with in a season or two.

Weakened by the loss of Romeo Capriotti, ace back who was out with an ankle injury, Villanova never made any threatening gestures. Added to Oliver's head-aches were injuries to Joe Gonsky and Jack Campbell, age ends, and to Center Milt Komarnicki.

Army scored in the first 59 seconds of play when Georgetown Glenn Davis passed 53 yards to Felix (Doc) Blanchard. Blanchard then stepped 66 yards for another opening-period touchdown.

In the same session, Davis went over from the two to cap an 80 yard advance and went over from the end for an 18-yard third In successive periods, Bob Chabot, Elwyn Rowan, Bob Stuart and Johnny Sauter went over for touchdowns as the score skyrocketed.

Westgate Hills Gains Playoffs

Undeclared Olney Plays Here Sunday; Tinticum Beaten,

Westgate Hills All-Stars have finished their regular season in the Pop Warner Football Conference with a record of five victories and one defeat. They'll open the elimination playoffs Sunday against the undefeated Olney Aces at Eagle Rd. and West Chester Pk.

Olney, headed by an outstanding end in George Logan, has won four games and has been tied twice.

Westgate Hills chalked up its fifth victory last Sunday at the expense of the White Eagles of Tinticum, 21-0.

Joe Leonard, just out of the Army Air Force, tossed a 30-yard pass to Brown for the first touchdown late in the first quarter. In the second period Danny Nicholson, Coast Guard trainee, tackled Kutsy of the visitors behind the goal line for a safety, giving Westgate an 8-0 lead at halftime.

Captain Bert Smith intercepted a pass and raced 45 yards for a score in the third quarter and later in the same period Jimmy Dyvart plunged over from the two yard line to complete the rout.

There was no scoring in the first half, but Bob Taylor booted home goal for Bala-Cynwyd early in the second half. He scored a second goal in the closing minutes after George Spornazo had also tallied.

U. S. IMPORTS LITTLE WOOL
Between 70 and 80 per cent of the wool consumed by the United States is produced within its own boundaries; balance is largely imported from Australia.

A small French two-seater automobile, capable of making 100 miles on a gallon of gasoline, is now ready for production. It weighs only 375 pounds.
